

“Icons” set subject – November 2019

The last comp for the year and this may be your opportunity to inject a bit of humor into your images.

What an Icon is can be interpreted very differently by all of us, so be careful in your subject matter as it will need to be pretty obvious to the judge.

For example - the Olympic sprinter Cathy Freeman would probably be recognized as an iconic figure and most of us would probably recognise an image of her.

On the other hand Tim Cahill, the leading goal scorer in Australian soccer, whilst iconic in his sport would probably not be recognised by anywhere near as many people.

Below are 2 links that may give you some ideas – even though both links relate to Australian subjects you are not limited to Australian content.

One final thought – every time you look at your computer screen you will see lots of icons – maybe there are some creative ideas staring you in the face.

Good luck.
